We are now introducing our "Extended range".

Previously, Panthera only manufactured one-piece special products, such as backrests.

We are no longer doing this, but we will be offering the most commonly used special products in our extended range.

By extended range, we mean items that are outside our regular range but have their own article number and a fixed delivery time. They are not stocked but can be ordered with a delivery time of 20 days. The extended range will be added to in the future with more products.

The items we are now introducing are backrests, flared 3 cm and tapered 6 cm, for the S3 series and U3 Light. These backrests also have customised upholstery. When ordering, please state the article number for the desired backrest and the article number for the appropriate upholstery. Everything is clearly explained on our website: link

We are launching backrests for fixed back systems at the same time, which will be stocked with the same delivery time as standard backrests. These backrests are available for the S3 series and U3 Light.
